Dear Harold,

I've been trying to snatch a moment since Saturday night to drop you a note about the WNEW-TV 3-hr. show. Apparently they did some last-minute editing after the preview and it was somewhat improved as shown — at least, Savage thought so.

Jacob Cohen came off very badly. I certainly enjoyed your retort, "I will when you stop lying" & also your statement that one thing you would not call the WR was "sloppy." Comment on the program from sundry people has been generally favorable — from a few, very enthusiastic. Lane, of course, got many extravagant compliments — and No. 1 on the best-seller list! Trust a scoundrel to "make it" that big. No other special news — I was interviewed by Epoca for 5 hours — strongly advised them to confront you, too, they were negative because of deadline and distance. Hastily —

Sylvia
